

A close-up photograph of a young child with light brown hair, smiling broadly. The child is being held securely by a person in a full military uniform, including a camouflage jacket, a black belt with a silver buckle, and a black beret. The background is a warm, out-of-focus yellow and orange, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. The overall mood is one of safety and family.

THE OPPORTUNITY OF A NEW YEAR!

Starting a new year always feels like hitting a refresh button, and it's the perfect time to try new things and make the most of what Family and MWR at Fort Buchanan has to offer. It's a chance to learn something new, whether that's picking up a skill, joining a class, or just being curious again. It's also a great excuse to enjoy life a little more, getting outside, moving your body, and finding fun ways to exercise that don't feel like a chore. Best of all, the new year invites us to reconnect and socialize, meet new people, and strengthen the friendships that make our community feel like home. All these small steps add up to a happier, healthier, and better life we can build together and you will find many of those opportunities in the events offered and advertised in this publication. Cheers to a new year!
